BTC remains 'stable' after turbulence. Hovering $6400.

The previous week saw significant price fluctuation as fake news over Tether drove Bitcoin prices higher. BitStamp and Bitfinex is still trading at a $100 spread. The chart below highlights the Bitcoin price chart since Oct 2014 on a logarithmic scale.

Monero: First large cap to implement 'Bulletproof' tech.

Aimed to drastically reduce the size of confidential transaction by 80%, Monero will soon be putting this into the wild after a year of work. Privacy on the blockchain adds several scalability problems already plaguing many projects. Link

Nouriel Roubini is throwing stones on Twitter as he gets vocal on cryptocurrencies.

Venturing into deep waters, the Nobel prize winner is not holding back. Directly calling out members of the cryptosphere he's clearly set out to ruffle some feathers. This saga is just beginning. Nouriel's Twitter
